FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

It is sometimes difficult to live in acceptance of the world as the 'valley of tears,' and yet remain joyful and delight genuinely in the gifts and truly good things we may experience in it. Our Lady of Lourdes knows deeply our desire for happiness and freedom from sorrows. She reminds Bernadette that the world cannot offer us this happiness and freedom that we truly seek. This is an important reflection to make as we journey through the hardships and temptations of this life. The Blessed Mother's words are not meant to be discouraging—they are meant to direct our hearts to the place where they may find fulfillment. We are right to be grateful for and delight in the goods that the Lord sends to us in this world, however we remember them as a reflection of His Supreme Goodness and the eternal kingdom that he calls us to. Further, it is the state of this world that suffering will necessarily be a part of our pilgrimage. We are called to accept this as our lot without losing heart, fully alive, to follow faithfully in Christ's footsteps to true happiness.
