St. Peter and St. Paul are two of the most well-known saints and are often spoken of as the two men most responsible for spreading the Christian message in the days of the early church. As to why they are celebrated on the same day, legend has it that they were executed on the same day under the command of Emperor Nero and buried in Rome. (Although historical accounts cite Peter being martyred in 64 AD and Paul in 67 AD.) June 29, the Church celebrates the feast day of both men, and as early as 258 AD, there is evidence of an already-lengthy tradition that both Saint Peter and Saint Paul were celebrated on the same day. In a sermon in the year 395, St. Augustine of Hippo said of Saints Peter and Paul: Both apostles share the same feast day, for these two were one; and even though they suffered on different days, they were as one. Peter went first, and Paul followed. And so we celebrate this day made holy for us by the apostles' blood. Let us embrace what they believed, their life, their labors, their sufferings, their preaching, and their confession of faith.

Summer of Our Lives* by John Read

Stop and smell the roses, summers sweet perfume.
A place to view the daffodils, God's nature all in bloom.
Sit beneath a willow tree, sheltered from the sun.

A wish on every bough, where all our dreams begun.
Listen for all the sounds, as summer plays its tune.

An orchestra of angels, flowers all in bloom.
Birds singing in the tree tops, in perfect harmony.

All creatures great and small,
God's greatest symphony.

Be amazed by all God's beauty, make each precious moment last.

A moment to capture and treasure, a golden memory for your past.

Stop and smell the roses, life's summer sweet perfume.

Take time to view the daffodils,
for it's over all too soon.
