Born about 316 A.D., in the region that is now Western Hungary, St. Martin was the son of pagan parents. While he was still a child, his father was transferred to Pavia in Northern Italy, and it was here that he first was drawn to Christianity. Although his youth was spent as a cavalryman in the Roman army, he continued to yearn for something more. Legend has it that Martin, while he was a young soldier stationed in the land of Gaul – now France – chanced upon a shivering, miserable beggar clutching his rags about him in the bitter cold one day. He noticed no one was helping the man, but Martin had nothing with him but the soldier's clothes he wore. Overcome with concern, Martin removed his heavy wool cavalry cloak and cut it in two, then gave half to the beggar. Later, Martin had a vision in which Jesus was wearing the half-cloak he'd given the beggar. In his dream, Jesus told the Angels around him that it had been given to him by Martin. Martin immediately became baptized, and not long after, he refused to fight the invading Franks on grounds of conscience, landing in prison. When the invaders suddenly decided to enter peace negotiations, Martin was released and obtained a discharge from the army. As a free man, he began his commitment to Christianity in earnest, studying under famous scholars and teachers of the era. For many years, he preached and evangelized throughout the countryside, living as a missionary, and helping the poor and the sick. Soon, he was considered the holiest man in France. When Martin was consecrated, in 371, he chose to continue living a life of humility and compassion, rather than adopting the rich lifestyle of most bishops. He continued caring for the sick and those in great need, and he developed a reputation for saving the lives of prisoners.

This weekend's special 2nd collection benefits the Catholic University of America located in the heart of our nation's capital. Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, the University community has been working tirelessly on behalf of its 5700 graduate and undergraduate students to navigate the extraordinary challenges presented by the unprecedented public health crisis. Through its 12 schools, 32 research facilities, and more than 250 academic programs, the University is doing its best to support its students and faculty while also being true to its mission of educating future Catholic leaders. Your gift to the second collection, the only national collection taken for higher education in our country will not only go to support students in this critical time but also helps the University better serve dioceses and parishes through innovative research initiatives and training programs. Our contributions are critical to both a successful academic year and to all the important work the University does on behalf of the church and its Faithful. Thank you and God Bless!

This year's Thanksgiving Day collection will benefit the Pastor's Charity fund. Blessings! Mass is at 10am.

Outreach is still accepting NEW or gently used jackets for our 150 children (ages birth through 17) and adults. There is a box in the back of the church until December 1st. If you'd like to give a cash donation, then somebody on our Outreach committee will purchase new jackets for our children. You can donate in the weekend collection (please mark your check "Outreach Jackets") or give it to Susan in the office or mail us your contribution. Thank you!

Outreach "Share Tree" will go up next weekend Nov.13th and stay up until Dec. 5th.

Plan a Gift that Works for You

Charitable Bequest

Leave a portion of your estate such as cash or stock to Our Lady of Tahoe in your will.

Appreciated Securities

Donating stock is a simple, smart way to give. Email us at susan@ourladyoftahoe.org for account transfer information.

IRA QCD

If you are 70 1/2 or older, ask your professional advisor if giving directly from your IRA is a tax-wise way for you to give.

Please be sure we have your updated contact info and if you would like to receive our weekly e-bulletin and other parish news, kindly contact Susan at 775-588-2080 to be added to our email list. Thank you and God Bless!
